About the Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre

The Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre is an independent economic and social research organisation located within the Curtin Business School at Curtin University.

The Centre was established in 2012 through the generous support of Bankwest, a division of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia. The Centre's core mission is to deliver high quality, accessible research that enhances our understanding of key economic and social issues that contribute to the wellbeing of West Australian families, businesses and communities.

The Centre's research and engagement activities are designed to influence economic and social policy debates in State and Federal Parliament, regional and national media, and the wider Australian community. Through high quality, evidence-based research and analysis, our research outcomes inform policy makers and commentators of the economic challenges to achieving sustainable and equitable growth and prosperity both in Western Australia and nationally.

The Centre capitalises on Curtin University's reputation for excellence in economic modelling, forecasting, public policy research, trade and industrial economics and spatial sciences. Centre researchers have specific expertise in economic forecasting, quantitative modelling and economic and social policy evaluation.

Welcome from Alan Duncan

Welcome to the launch of Finding a Place to Call Home: Immigration in Australia.

This is the seventh report in the BCEC Focus on the States Series and explores the profile and evolution of immigration in Australia over recent years and undertakes a comprehensive assessment of the contributions immigrants make to Australia's social and economic development.

Growth in the immigrant share of Australia's population has led to many debates over the impacts that migrants have had, or will have, on various aspects of life, particularly jobs and wages. Our report provides new evidence to better inform these debates and highlights the positive impact of immigrants to the Australian economy.

It also explores the extent of acceptance of multiculturalism in Australia, and provides an assessment of immigrant health and wellbeing. We are becoming a more accepting society, but still have some way to go.

There is a special focus on humanitarian migrants and how well they are faring. These migrants come to Australia having experienced terrible persecution and trauma, which will have a lasting impact on their overall health and wellbeing, but it is encouraging to see that the majority of these individuals feel a sense of safety and feel a part of our communities.

Immigration is a defining feature of Australia's economic and social life and will shape the nature of tomorrow's Australia. We hope that this report goes some way to shed light on this important issue.

Thank you to our guest presenters: Dr Anne Aly MP, Federal Member for Cowan; Dr John Byrne, WA Equal Opportunity Commissioner; Ms Tamkin Essa, Multicultural Youth Advocacy Network WA Project Support Officer, Youth Affairs Council WA; and our Master of Ceremonies, Ms Nadia Mitsopoulos, Journalist and Presenter from ABC Radio Perth.

On behalf of BCEC, I welcome you to today's launch and thank you for your continued support of the Centre's mission to deliver high quality, evidence-based research that contributes to the wellbeing of West Australian families, businesses and communities.

Ms Robyn Collard

Noongar Elder

Robyn is a Nyungar Yorga from the Whadjuk and Ballardong family groups and is a mother of three and nana to 12 beautiful and talented grandchildren. Her wider family includes the McGuire, Bennell and Shaw families with connections to the Tiwi Islands.

Robyn is a respected Elder and continues to conduct Welcome to Country ceremonies.

Her role is to develop cultural education programs, offer advice from an Aboriginal perspective on a range of issues and build capacity with Aboriginal staff.

Robyn comes with a wealth of knowledge and experience in her career that covers previous roles within the Government and Catholic education systems as a principal, team leader and education consultant from across the Northern Territory and Western Australia.

Ms Sinead Taylor

Executive General Manager, Bankwest

Sinead is an experienced and highly regarded banking executive, bringing a rich international perspective from almost two decades of commercial banking experience.

She was appointed head of Bankwest in October 2019, having joined Bankwest in 2013 as the Executive General Manager Business Banking, before being appointed in 2017 to also lead Retail Banking as Executive General Manager Personal and Business Banking.

Prior to Bankwest, Sinead held a variety of Executive roles at Commonwealth Bank in Global Markets, Strategy, Marketing, Business and Corporate Banking. She has also managed strategy and marketing teams for a number of top tier professional service firms in the UK and Australia, as well as working in senior roles in publishing, radio production and broadcasting.

Sinead holds a Master of Business Administration from the Australian Graduate School of Management, is accredited with the Australian Financial Markets Association, and is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Marketing in the UK. She served as the Chair of the Bankwest Foundation and is a former Board member for WA Ballet.

Sinead has four children and keeps active by cycling, running, rowing, skiing and ice skating. She has a passion for the arts, plays classical piano and enjoys composing and creative writing.

Professor Alan Duncan

Director, Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre

Professor Alan Duncan is Director of the Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre and Bankwest Professor of Economic Policy at Curtin University.

Alan has published widely in academic and policy outlets of the highest international reputation, and was awarded the prestigious Frisch Medal of the Econometric Society in 2000 for a paper published in the world-leading journal, Econometrica. His broad range of research interests include: public policy; education, training and childcare; labour market participation; gender equity; and inequality and wellbeing.

Alan completed a DPhil in Economics at the University of York. He has served on senior advisory panels and boards for government and public sector organisations and has given evidence at Federal Senate Committee hearings.

Associate Professor Astghik Mavisakalyan

Principal Research Fellow, Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre

Associate Professor Astghik Mavisakalyan is a Principal Research Fellow at the Bankwest Curtin Economics Centre and oversees the Centre's Focus on the States report series.

She works in many areas, including cultural economics, political economy, development economics, labour economics, and gender and migration. With support from the Australian Research Council, UNU-WIDER and other sources, Astghik has published extensively through public reports and across reputable academic journals. Astghik serves the profession in a variety of roles such as editorial committee member of The Economic and Labour Relations Review, chair of the steering committee for the Australian Gender Economics Workshop series, and a member of the Women in Economics WA committee and the Economics Society of Australia's WA Branch Council.

Dr Anne Aly MP

Federal Member for Cowan

Dr Anne Aly is the Labor Federal Member for Cowan elected in 2016.

Anne's background is as a Professor, Academic and Practitioner in the fields of counter terrorism and counter radicalisation. She has published over 100 articles and texts on terrorism and related issues and is the author and editor of five books. Prior to becoming an academic she worked in government policy.

Anne is the founder of Australia's first non-government organisation to combat violent extremism. People against Violent Extremism (PaVE) is a not for profit organisation that developed a social media campaign against violent extremism and delivered a series of hackathons to harness young people's skills and talents to address issues in their communities.

Anne's contributions to national and international security have been recognised internationally. In 2015 she was the only Australian civil society representative to be invited to speak at President Obama's White House Summit on CVE. Later that year, she was again the only Australian representative to participate in the Club de Madrid +10 policy dialogues. Anne has also been an expert adviser to the United Nations Security Council and has participated in experts' meetings.

In 2011, Anne was inducted into the WA Women's Hall of Fame. In 2014, she was named one of Australia's 100 most Influential Women by Westpac/Fin Review. In 2016 she was awarded the Instyle Woman of Style award in the category of Community and Charity. Also in 2016 Anne was nominated for the Australian of the Year and received the prestigious Australian Security Medal.

Anne lives in her electorate in the northern suburbs with her husband David. She has two adult sons.

Ms Tamkin Essa

Multicultural Youth Advocacy Network WA Project Support Officer, Youth Affairs Council of Western Australia

Tamkin Essa studies International Relations and Journalism at Curtin University and works at the Youth Affairs Council of WA, leading the Multicultural Youth Advocacy Network of WA.

Over the years, Tamkin has led two Catalyst Youth Summits, for multicultural young people living in WA. Both summits were aimed at bringing young people together to discuss issues, create solutions and to directly express their concerns to politicians and key decision makers.

Tamkin also works on the Shout Out program which provides an opportunity for refugee, migrant and Aboriginal young people to share their stories and insight into topics they feel passionate about, through public speaking engagements.

She is passionate about youth empowerment, community development, human rights, international affairs and creating inclusive spaces.

Dr John Byrne

WA Equal Opportunity Commissioner

Dr John Byrne is the Commissioner for Equal Opportunity in Western Australia and has been in the role since 2016. John has been profoundly deaf since he was a child. He holds PhD and MBA degrees.

Prior to becoming Commissioner, he was a Director with the Department of Parks and Wildlife where he was involved with increasing diversity in employment, engagement with Aboriginal people in management of their country and improving access to recreation facilities by people with disabilities.

He has been an advocate for people with disabilities for many years and is credited with achieving major improvements to captioning of television, cinema and live theatre in Australia.

John is Chair of the New and Emerging Communities Reference Group, the members of which are organisations that serve and advocate for recent migrants and refugees.

Professor Chris Moran

Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Research, Curtin University

As Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Research, Professor Moran is responsible for the development and implementation of strategies, frameworks and activities to achieve the University's strategic goals in research and IP commercialisation.

Prior to joining Curtin, Professor Moran was Director of the Sustainable Minerals Institute (SMI), at The University of Queensland (UQ), from 2007-2016. He was Founding Director, Centre for Coal Seam Gas (UQ) and Founding Director, Centre for Water in the Minerals Industry (UQ). Across a 16-year career with CSIRO, he held a range of leadership roles, including heading the team that developed the Water for a Healthy Country Flagship Program.

Professor Moran is the current Chair of the Universities Australia Committee of Deputy Vice-Chancellors, Research. Professor Moran has been a Board Member of five Cooperative Research Centres.

He is a member of advisory boards for the International Centre for Radio Astronomy (ICRAR), Bankwest Curtin Economics Centres (BCEC), Centre for Crop Disease Management (CCDM) and the Fuel Energy Technology Institute (FETI).

In the International domain, Professor Moran was a Director of the AusAID-funded International Mining for Development Centre and established an International Centre of Excellence for the mining industry in Chile.

He holds a Bachelor of Agricultural Sciences (with Honours) and a PhD from the University of Sydney and has a strong international and national reputation for his research and expertise in soil science (digital image processing), natural resources (spatial modelling and statistics) and water management. Professor Moran has published widely in scientific literature and the broader media.

Ms Nadia Mitsopoulos

Journalist and Presenter, ABC Radio Perth

Nadia Mitsopoulos is an experienced journalist who has carved out a successful media career.

She is currently the co-host of the Breakfast program on ABC Radio Perth.

She has worked extensively in television at Channel 9, 10, GWN and Associated Press before moving to ABC Radio as a producer and presenter.

Nadia is also a board member of Lifeline WA and AWESOME Arts.
